Island wide

KEYWORDS

Children - hyperactive

NOTES

Aims of organisation: the most common cause of hyperactivity is in artificial additives in food (colour, flavour, & preservatives), a poor diet adds to the problem, some of the children being very low in vitamins & minerals. We provide information and guidance through a diet booklet, newsletter and contact. Usually there is improvement shown in behaviour within 3 days of starting a diet, single parents & families on income support can have booklet and vitamins free of charge, in the Isle of Man only, when we have sufficient funds
